

Maths: KS2

Symmetry

(Not to scale)

The chapel is a symmetrical building. That means the building is identical on each side. If it were cut in half, both sides would be the same. The line down the middle of a symmetrical shape is called the line of symmetry or a mirror line.

Can you draw the other half of the chapel?

Can you draw the other half of these shapes?

